

REPORT ON WORKSHOP from SRM Marine Technology Society

The technical workshop conducted in SRM Institute of Science and Technology during 05-03-19 to 09-03-19.

The first session consisted of introduction for LabVIEW, basic LabVIEW functionalities and modules. Finally the control system module was designed and simulated for a DC motor in real time LabVIEW environment. All the topics were actively discussed by technical persons from National Instruments, Bangalore.

The five days intense programme consists of training on labview software, hardware equipments like myrio and Elvis II+. The students are exposed to technical discussions with the industrial experts and participation certificates were provided.

